American Society of Deaf Artists.

The International Society of Deaf Artists is now known as the American Society of Deaf Artists.

Its membership has been enlarged so as to embrace Associate members. The number of Active members is limited to twenty, while legally only thirty can be enrolled as Honorary members. But Associate membership can go to any limit and has the additional advantage that no dues or assessments can be levied.

The American Society of Deaf Artists has been accepted as a chapter of the American Federation of Arts, which is located at Washington, D. C., and has more than eighty affiliated societies of arts and nearly a thousand associate members The officers of the Federation are of a national reputation, such as Charles L. Hutchinson president, who is now president of the Chicago Art Institute, treasurer of Chicago University, trustee of Carnegie Institute, etc.; Herbert Adams, vice-president, who is one of the eminent American Sculptors; J. W. Alexander, vice-president, who is president of the Equitable Life Assurance Co., president of the Union Club, trustee of Princeton University, etc.; Ralph Adams Cram, vice-president, who stands high as critic and author; Francis D. Millet, secretary, who is famous in the Art world.

It is no small accomplishment for the American Society of Deaf Artists to secure admission into such an organization, and is a cause of much gratification that for the first time in history an organization of the deaf has entered on equal terms a federation of high-class societies of the hearing world.

The Society of Deaf Artists is officered as follows: C. W. Fetscher, President; Arthur O. Steidmann, Vice-President; Miss Ruby Abrams, Treasurer; J. Alexander, Secretary.

At the ordination services held in Christ Church, Williamspor, June 16th, when Rev. John C. Grimes, B.D., was ordained to the Priesthood and the Rev Francis Frick, D.D., to the Diaconate, Rev. Franklin C. Smielau acted as Chaplain to Bishop Darlington, and joined in the service. Mr. Smielau has been appointed Chaplain to the Bishop, and will serve in that capacity at all the important functions of the church.

Rev. Mr. Smielau will attend the annual outings of the deaf as follows:—Luzerne and Lackawanna missions, at Valley View Park, July 16th; Rochester Mission, at Summerville, July 30th; Central Pennsylvania Mission, at Edgewood Park, Shamokin, August 6th; Lehigh Mission, at Central Park, Rittersville, August 13th; and the Convention of the P. S. A. D., the last week in August. Services will be held on the Sundays following each gathering at the usual places.

Services for the Deaf-Mutes of Erie and vicinity will be held at St. Paul's chapel, Sunday, July 10th, at 4 P.M.

Names Omitted.

EDITOR DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL

DEAR SIR:—There was recently published in the JOURNAL what purposed to be a list of the present membership of the National Association of the Deaf. The number is seventy-five. Many complaints have been made of names by members omitted from the list. Will the treasurer kindly look over his list and report of the names given include all in good standing? If Mr. Long is to be a candidate for re election as Treasurer of the Association, it is important that this question be clearly answered.

Yours truly,
N. A. D.

BOSTON

In our last letter we omitted to recount an event of significance.

On Sunday, June 5th, very impressive services were held at the Evangelical Church. Two persons were received into membership—Mrs. Rhoda Barnard and Mrs. E. Z. Jellison. Mrs. Barnard is over eighty-one years of age, but as active as a woman of sixty. She is perhaps the only living pupil of the original Gallaudet. For years she had been wishing to join some church, but none exactly suited her until the establishing of the present order of worship She has become greatly attached to Rev. Mr. Wyand. The conversion of these ladies is a result of the recent great meetings. When the minister announced the names of the applicants for membership there was surprise and rejoicing. Following the admission the Pastor preached his most able sermon, since here, taking as his text, St. Paul 19:13—"Occupy till I Come." After the sermon, the sacraments of the Lord's Supper were partaken of by twenty-four persons, representing the Episcopal, Presbyterian, Methodist, Congregational, Baptist, Lutheran and United Brethren churches. This was the largest number to have yet partaken. The audience was the largest of the year excepting Easter Sunday.

Miss Dickson, of Gardner, Mass., is the guest of the Bigelows.

Sign-Language Pamphlet No. 2 is being printed here for the N. A. D. It contains Miss Jennings' address with her late "Post Script;" Miss Fitzgerald's address; Superintendents' criticism of Mr. Harris Taylor's address before the Speech Association at the Chicago Convention; and several other articles. The pamphlet with No 1 will meet all requirements. Every library in the United States should have a copy.

The June social, at the Evangelical Church was more largely attended than the May social. The committee in charge was Ethel and Earle Bigelow, and Majorie Wood, hearing children of deaf parents. They opened the evening with a drama, and for the time being all three were deaf-mutes. At the close "Mark Twain" Dougherty was pushed upon the platform and compelled to give some of his side-splitting tales. Ice-cream and cake were served to every body.

We are informed that Mr. William Cooper, of Portland, Me., a Gallaudet graduate, and for the past year a teacher in the Negro Deaf and Blind School in Baltimore, has gone to the northwest, where he will take up church work, the place having been arranged by Rev. O. J. Whildin.

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the N. E. Home for the Deaf, held a business meeting in the room of the Evangelical Alliance Church, on Tuesday afternoon, and elected the following officers for the coming year: President, Mrs. George Holmes; Vice-President, Mrs. Isaac Blanchard; Secretary, Miss Alice C. Jennings; Treasurer, for Boston etc., Mrs F. W. Bigelow; Treasurer for Salem, etc., Mrs. Hardy Chapman. This society has done great work under Mrs. Bowden's terms as president. We hope the same interest will be kept up by the new board.

Boston will be full to over flowing with N. E. A. delegates. So far we know of but very few coming who are connected with schools for the deaf

Mr. John E. Ray, Superintendent of the North Carolina School, at Raleigh, is to speak on Education of Blind. He will stay over Sunday and preach at the Evangelical Church, at the usual hour for services A large crowd is expected to "hear" him.

Mrs. Geo. Pinto and little daughter have arrived from her home in Kansas, and now Mr. and Mrs. Pinto are at home to their friends, having gone to housekeeping in Chelsea. Mr. Mallock boards with them. He and Mr. Pinto are employed by the same shoe firm.

The perfect June day vouchsafed to the Horace Mann Alumni for their farewell reception to Miss Sarah Fuller, was a type of the serene and gracious presence of that lady herself. All question of methods aside, no pupil of hers can escape influence of her personality, exercised now for these forty years. It is safe to say that every year of the forty had its representative among the three hundred or more who crowded the school building on Newbury Street between the hours of two and nine on the twenty-fifth of June.

The main reception was from two to four o'clock. In the receiving line with Miss Fuller were Mr Lowenberg, President of the Horace Mann Benevolent Association; Miss Jennings, senior pupil in age; Mrs Zimmer, one of the earlier attendants at the school; and, during the last hour, Miss Rogers, former Principal of the Clarke Institute, Northampton. It will be remembered that Miss Rogers and Miss Fuller were among the pioneers in oralist work.

Except that her hair has changed from black to gray and that she stoops slightly, Miss Fuller has altered very little in the forty years. She was very lovely in appearance on this occasion, robed in black and white, with tiny trimmings of blue—the school color. She carried a bouquet of red roses tied with blue ribbon—the gift of the Horace Mann Benevolent Association. Her store of flowers was constantly added to by those coming in, until every available space in the room, where a vase could be accommodated, was filled with the floral beauties.

From two until after four, a steady stream of pupils and friends filed in, each was received as cordially by Miss Fuller as though he or she had been the only one. Many brought their little ones, the youngest of all being the bright, six months-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sargent.

At four o'clock, the more formal exercises commenced. Seated on the platform were Miss Fuller, retiring Principal; Miss Jordan, Principal-elect; and Miss Jennings, oldest pupil of the school. The different numbers on the program were announced by Mr Price, who also read several letters of regret from people unable to attend.

The address by Mr. Henry C. White was a model of fine English, giving exquisite expression to the best elements of Miss Fuller's work—how she has brought joy to the hearts of parents by opening a new world to their deaf children, and how these children, many of them, have since taken their places in the world as responsible and self-respecting men and women. Mrs. Fischer voiced the same sentiment in one verse of the poem she addressed to Miss Fuller:—

"Soon we must scatter again,
For each has some duty to do,
But all, as women and men,
Are doing it better for you."

A part of the programme which evidently took Miss Fuller somewhat by surprise was the gift of a handsome clock from the alumni, tendered by Mr. Lowenberg in a few words of presentation, to which Miss Fuller made a brief and graceful response.

The exercises over, all hands were ordered outside, for the taking of a group picture. No less than four pictures were taken of the large group, and one of the "old guard," the Pemberton Square pupils of 1870–75. Regular graduation did not begin until later, and the students of most advanced standing were then known as the "First Class." In those old days of the seventies, six responded to their names, and five of these could do so again last Saturday—Misses Peirce, Moore and Jennings, Mrs. Wellington and Mrs. Zimmer. Mr. H C. White also belonged to this class. Later additions were Miss A. R. Watson, now of Worcester; Mr. W. L. Washburn, now of Hartford, and Mrs Angelia Tewksbury Fischer, of Methuen.

The two last named were present on the 25th and several of the lower classes of that date were represented also.

The camera was now removed from the yard to the upper story and the flowers had their turn. Scores of vases filled the long tables, with the clock presented to Miss Fuller in the centre. The effect cannot fail to be fine.

Delicious refreshments were served in the lower hall, and guests continued to arrive until eight o'clock. The reunion of old friends was delightful to witness. They met for perhaps the first time since their school days, and generally recognized each other in spite of all changes. The occasion was one not to be forgotten. It seems to have given great satisfaction to the person most immediately concerned, for Miss Fuller remarked to one of the pupils:

"I am a prouder woman to-day than I ever supposed I should be."

The Reception Committee may well congratulate themselves on the success of their six months work.

GALLAUDET HOME.

Miss Catherine A. Newbold, of the Ladies Board, is on a visit in Europe but there is no telling when she will be back.

Matron Jones and Miss Porter were in the Queen City some weeks ago. They called to see a lady who was formerly an assistant here.

Last month all the floors in the corridors of both departments were painted dark brown, and look better for it.

Mrs. Stewart enjoyed her eighty-first birthday on Sunday, May 22d. She is a native of Vermont, but was educated in this State.

Lawyer Brown and his wife were evening callers a short time ago.

Mrs. Cordelia Turner Edwards entered into rest a little after two o'clock P.M, Tuesday, May 24th, aged seventy-nine years, eleven months and twenty-five days. The cause of her demise was tuberculosis, from which she had suffered for a long while. The funeral took place from the chapel the following Thursday afternoon, Rev. Dr. Chamberlain officiating, then the remains were interred in the Home cemetery. Mrs. Edwards got her education at the School for the Deaf in Jacksonville, Ill., which her daughter, Mrs. Mary E. Harden, of St. Louis, Mo., and the late Walter D. Edwards, attended. Mrs. Edwards came to the Home July 5th, 1894, from Breesport, Chemung County, this State.

Mrs. Isabella L. Mann found it impossible to accompany her husband here from Yonkers, Saturday afternoon, May 28th, but she hopes to make up for it.

Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Amos T. Ashton, of Hyde Park, N. Y., are shortly to go abroad for the benefit of Dr. Ashton's health, as he is worn out with his church parish work and needs recuperation. Mrs. Ashton is on the Ladies' Board of the Home. A pleasant voyage to them and safe return.

The deaf-mute members of St. Mark's Episcopal Church in Brooklyn do not forget friends here, as is shown by the pretty Memorial Day cards they received.

One evening lately, Mrs. Barnhart was said to be lost, and Matron Jones, after looking all over for the old lady, found her in the little dining-room busy with some napkins, silver knives and forks. Mrs. Barnhart is eighty-six years of age, and has to be cared for like a toddlier.

We see by a New York paper that the degree of Doctor of Laws was recently conferred upon Representative William S. Bennet, of New York, by a Pennsylvania College. He is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs Peter Witschief, of Port Jervis, N. Y., who graduated from the High Class at Fanwood. Mr. and Mrs. Witschief's friends here send congratulations.

Saturday, June 4th, was a pleasant and sacred memory in the history of this charitable institution, the weather being cool and perfectly lovely. There was a large influx of visitors at one o'clock P.M. An excellent and palatable luncheon was served for them in the dining hall, after which all went to the chapel, where Mrs. Caroline B. Thompson unveiled a nice tablet to the memory of Mrs. Cornelia Mandeville Nelson, who for twenty-two years, was president of the Board of Lady Managers of the Home. Rev. Dr. Chamberlain conducted an appropriate service, assisted by Rev. John Keiser. Addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. Arthur H. Judge, Rector of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church in New York; Archdeacon Ashton, of St. James' P. E. Church, Hyde Park, N. Y, Mr. Henry J. Haight, of Philadelphia, Dr. Chamberlain interpreting in the sign-language and orally. The Ladies Board was represented by Mrs. C. Thompson, Mrs. L. N. Phinney, Mrs. J. M. Mandeville, Miss Virginia B. Gallaudet, Mrs. James Roosevelt, Mrs. Charles H. Roberts, Miss Elizabeth P. Nelson, Mrs. A. P. Ashton, Mrs. Henry Bartlette, Mrs. Francis B. Whitcome, Miss Kate A Pott, Mrs. C. G Shaw, Mrs. Edward B. Taylor, Miss H. Rose Jewett and Miss Mary Cornwell. The trustees in attendance were: Mr. Albert L. Willis, New York; Mr. Francis W. Nuboer, N. Y., Mr. Charles P. Angel and Attorney George Wood, Wappinger's Falls; Mrs. E. M. Chamberlain, Mrs. Elsie Elderkin Gallaudet, Rev. Dr. W. H. Pott, Miss Mary F. Palmer, Mrs. Blackman, of Detroit, Mich., and others whose names the writer cannot recollect were here. The deaf-mutes who took in the occasion were: Mrs. Cornelia N. Lewis, Yonkers, N. Y., Mrs. Isabella Bensingers, Chagnon, N. Y. Mr. Henry J. Haight, Philadelphia; Mrs. Mary Leary, Poughkeepsie; Mr. Samuel Frankenheim and Mr. Henry C. Kohlman, N. Y. Mr. Haight was glad to meet his former Fanwood schoolmates again and donated twenty five dollars to the Home, to which other sums of money were added.

Old glory waved majestically in the summer breeze on Flag Day, June 14th, until night spread its sable mantle over the beautiful landscape.

Miss Warren and Miss Wahburn took a trolley ride up to the city on a recent Wednesday morning. They enjoyed their stroll hugely.

Mrs. C. G. Shaw took passage, Saturday, a couple of weeks ago, on a steamship for England, to remain until about the middle of next Fall. This makes her twenty-fifth trip abroad.

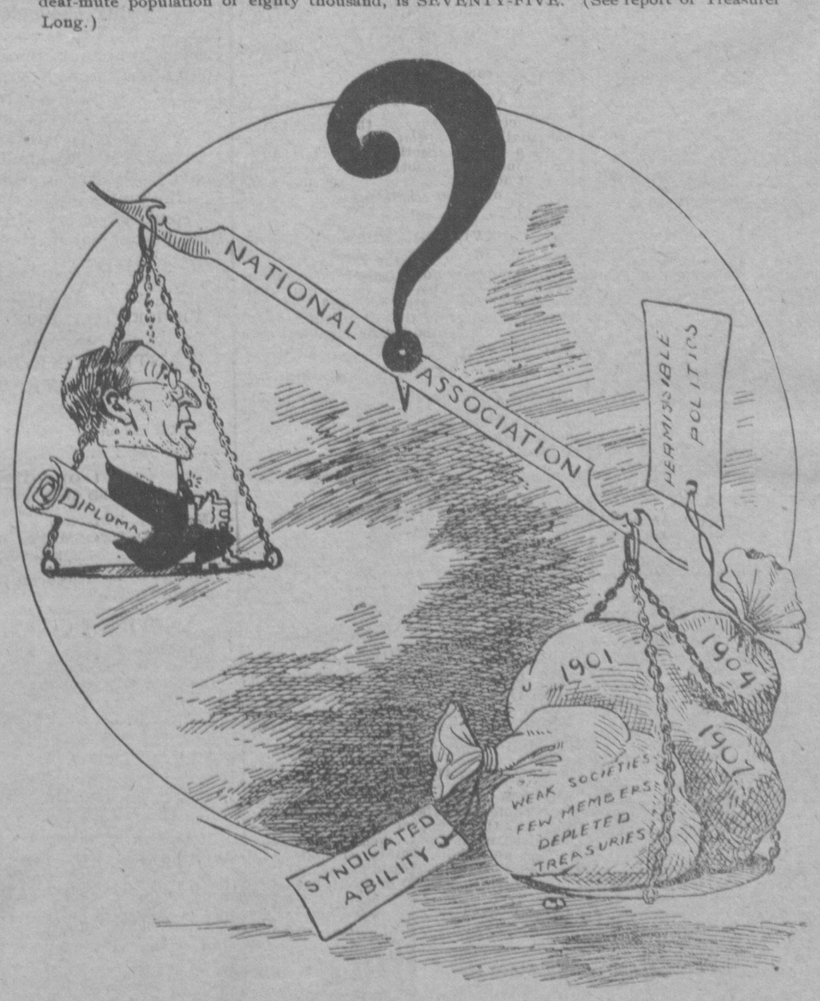

Blind, James H. Caton is visiting friends in the great and noisy metropolis down the drive.

Several of us have read with eager interest the accounts in New York newspapers about the welcoming home of Theodore Roosevelt, one of the most distinguished Presidents the United States has ever had. It will be a brilliant event to put on record not only in American history but in that of New Amsterdam in which Colonel Roosevelt was born.

"He's true to God who's true to man:
Wherever wrong is done
To the humblest and the weakest
'Neath the all-beholding sun,
That wrong is also done to us,
And they are slaves most base,
Whose love of right is for themselves,
And not for all the race."

Notices concerning the whereabouts of individuals will be charged for at the rate of ten cents a line.

Specimen copies sent to any address on receipt of five cents.

BEFORE departing for Europe, Dr. E. M. Gallaudet has published a new edition of his Memoirs of Thomas Hopkins Gallaudet. The books are now ready for delivery, and any of the deaf wishing to obtain one, can do so by sending the price ($1.75) to the publishers, Henry Holt & Company, New York.

The book is finely printed on heavy plate paper and cloth bound, and contains material of great interest to the deaf, presented in Dr. E. M. Gallaudet's facile and forceful style, and embodies an entire biography of that first great benefactor of the deaf who founded the first institution for their education in America.

THE June number of the Revue des Sourds-Muets of Paris, France, contains the complete list of names and amounts contributed by the deaf of the United States in aid of the deaf sufferers by the recent floods in France. The total amount sent to Mr. Gaillard, $207.52 (1,070 francs), was acknowledged by letter and formally in the May number of Revue des Sourds-Muets, by Mr. Gaillard, together with words of gratitude and affectionate appreciation of the kindly act of the deaf of the United States. The fund was started and carried out under the direction of the President of the National Association of the Deaf, and to that organization the credit belongs and was given when the money was forwarded.

WORD comes from Chicago that about twenty of the deaf of that city will go to the Colorado Convention, not counting others who may begin the main line journey from that centre of population.

On the evening of August 4th, there will be a big gathering somewhere not yet decided upon, and all visitors from Eastern points will be invited to make short addresses, the money proceeds from the affair to benefit the Home Fund.

On the following day, Friday, it is planned to get a special car on the Rock Island route, and all proceed together to Colorado Springs. This would make the trip more than pleasant for everybody. As to trains and advantages of the Rock Island line, the advertisement on the fourth page of this paper gives considerable information.

SUPT. RITTER GETS PURSE.

Supt. W. C. Ritter, of the Virginia School for Colored deaf, dumb and blind children, has been presented with a purse of $50 by his friends on the Peninsula. This amount was augmented by a like appropriation by the Board of Visitors of the School and Supt. Ritter will use the money in defraying his expenses on his trip to Colorado Springs, Col., to attend the International Congress of the Deaf which convenes on August 6th for a ten day session.—Newport News, Va., Press, July 1.

The Spear Plan.

FOR THE RE-ORGANIZATION OF THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION ON BROAD LINES OF UNION AND STRENGTH.

BY-LAWS

ARTICLE I—ORGANIZATION

Sec. 1. The officers of the National Association of the Deaf shall consist of a president, two vice-presidents, a secretary, and a treasurer. They shall be elected separately by ballot on the last day but one of any regular convention, and shall serve for a term of two years, or until their successors have been elected and qualified.

Sec 2. No member of the Association shall be elected to office unless he be present at the convention on the day of the election, and be in good standing on the books of the Association. No member shall be eligible to hold office until he has been a member of the Association for a period of six months at the time of election.

Sec. 3. There shall be an executive committee of seven members, to consist of the president, the secretary, the treasurer, and four other members to be chosen by the Association at the same time as the officers, as hereinafter provided. This executive committee shall have the general government, management and control of the affairs of the Association, the officers of the Association holding the corresponding offices in the executive committee. The four directors shall be chosen for a term of four years each, provided, however, that at the election next succeeding the adoption of these articles, two of said directors shall be chosen for the short term of two years and two for the full term of four years. Thereafter two directors shall be chosen at each biennial convention for the full term of four years each.

Sec. 4. The regular biennial meeting of the Association for the election of officers and directors, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the Association, shall be held in the city in which are located the Association's regularly constituted headquarters and place of business; or at such other place as may be determined upon by the Association, as specified in Sec. 5 of this article. Such biennia convention shall be held the first Wednesday in August, beginning at 8:30 P.M.

Sec. 5. The headquarters and principal place of conducting the business of the Association shall be in the city of Minneapolis, County of Hennepin, State of Minnesota, provided, however, that the Association shall have the power at any regular biennial meeting for the election of officers and the transaction of business, by a majority vote of its members, to determine the time and place of holding the next biennial meeting.

ARTICLE II—MEMBERSHIP

Sec. 1. Any deaf person who is a citizen of the United States may become a member of the National Association of the Deaf upon complying with the requirements for admission as hereinafter provided, and receiving the approval of the executive committee as provided in Sec. 4, of this article. Said member may remain such upon paying the required annual membership dues.

Sec 2. The terms of admission to membership shall be the payment of $1.50, which sum pays until the first day of July following admission, after which the annual contribution by each member of the Association, other than life members, shall be $1.50, payable in advance on or before the first day of July each year.

Sec. 3. Each candidate for membership shall deliver to the secretary, either directly or through an authorized agent, a written application, on blanks provided for the purpose, giving his name, occupation and address, and pledging himself to observe the laws of the Association, to encourage a spirit of fraternity, and to promote the growth and usefulness of the Association to the best of his ability, such application to be endorsed by at least two members in good standing and to be accompanied by the initiation fee, this to be returned in case the application is rejected.

Sec. 4. Candidates for membership may be proposed to the chairman of the executive committee, through the secretary of the Association, at any time. The chairman shall immediately submit the application to the other members of the executive committee, a majority vote being necessary to admit the applicant into membership.

Sec. 5. Any hearing person, interested in the welfare of the deaf, may become an honorary member of the Association by presenting his or her application in writing to the secretary, under such conditions and limitations as may be prescribed by the executive committee. Such application for honorary membership must be endorsed by at least two active members in good standing, and must take the same course as provided in the two preceding sections. Honorary members shall be entitled to all the privileges of the Association, except voting, holding office or taking active part in the business affairs of the Association.

Sec. 6. Any member of this Association may become a life member by paying into its treasury the sum of fifty dollars and receiving the approval of the executive committee, and he or she shall thereafter be exempt from all annual contributions.

Sec. 7. Any member in arrears thirty days in his annual contribution shall not be allowed to take part in the proceedings of any meeting of the Association; shall not be eligible to hold any office in said Associatio , and shall be debarred from all privileges of the Association until all arrearages are paid and be is again in good standing.

Sec. 8. Every person duly admitted to membership in the Association shall receive a certificate of membership, which certificate shall be signed by the president and secretary, and shall bear the corporate seal of the Association

ARTICLE III—DUTIES OF THE PRESIDENT.

Sec. 1. It shall be the duty of the president to preside at the meetings of the Association; to enforce order; to decide all questions in dipute, subject to an appeal to the Association by a two-thirds vote; to appoint committees, and to perform such other duties as properly come under the jurisdiction of his office. The president shall also act as chairman of the executive committee. He shall have power, should a vacancy occur in the executive committee between meetings of the Association, by death, resignation or otherwise, to appoint a member to fill the unexpired term, such appointment to be subject to the approval of the Association at the next regular meeting following such appointment.

Sec. 2. The president shall be specially watchful of all matters concerning the welfare of the deaf, and shall call the attention of the executive committee thereto whenever it may seem advisable, either by letter or through the columns of the Association paper. The president shall call meetings of the executive committee at his own option, or at the direction of a majority of the members thereof.

Sec. 3. At the meetings of the Association and of the executive committee the president shall have no vote, except in case a vote on any question be evenly divided, when he shall cast the deciding vote.

ARTICLE IV—DUTIES OF THE VICE-PRESIDENTS.

Whenever, for any reason, the president is absent, or unable to perform the duties of his office, the vice-presidents, in the order of the respective rank, shall assume the office of president and act in his stead, assuming the full powers usually delegated to the presiding officer.

ARTICLE V—DUTIES OF THE SECRETARY.

Sec. 1. The secretary shall be the executive officer of the Association, acting under the direction of the executive committee. He shall keep a record of all proceedings of the meetings of the Association and of the executive committee, and shall prepare same for publication; he shall keep a correct list of all the members of the Association, together with their addresses, date of admission, amounts paid, etc. He shall have charge of all papers pertaining to the Association, except such as belong to the treasurer. He shall have charge of the corporate seal of the Association. In case he is unable to attend any meeting of the executive committee, the committee shall choose one of its number to act as secretary pro tem. for that meeting.

Sec. 2. The secretary shall reside at headquarters, have charge of the office, and manage all business pertaining thereto. He shall send notices; receive, record and hold in trust property of the Association, other than instruments and funds in the hands of the treasurer; arrange for the printing and distributing of reports and other printed matter. He shall conduct correspondence with the advisory committee, receive applications for membership, furnish the advisory committee such instructions and printed matter as may be provided for by the executive committee; gather satistics and information relating to the deaf, and perform such other duties as may be required by the executive committee.

Sec. 3. The secretary shall edit and conduct the Association paper, under the direction of the executive committee, and have power to make all necessary contracts for the successful conduct of same, subject to limitations and regulations as may be prescribed by the executive committee.

Sec. 4. The secretary shall keep an accurate account of money belonging to the Association, coming into his hands or being expended in the conduct of the Association's business, and every ninety (90) days he shall turn over to the treasurer all moneys in his possession belonging to the Association, together with a detailed statement of his financial transactions.

Sec. 5. For his services he shall receive such salary as the executive committee may determine upon, which salary, however, shall not be less than $——, nor more than $——, per year. He shall be entitled to re-election to the office of secretary so long as he fulfills his duties satisfactorily to the Association and the executive committee; provided, however, that the executive committee shall not place said secretary on salary, nor establish said Association paper, until such time as in the judgment of the committee the financial condition of the Association will justify such action. Provided further, that until such time as the executive committee establishes an Association paper it shall designate one of the existing papers for the deaf as the official paper of the Association, which paper shall be furnished members free of charge.

ARTICLE VI—DUTIES OF THE TREASURER.

The treasurer shall receive all moneys belonging to the Association, except such as must necessarily be expended immediately in the conduct of the secretary's office. He shall keep an account of all receipts and expenditures, and shall submit a report to the executive committee whenever called upon to do so. He shall pay no bills except under such restrictions and regulations as may be provided by the executive committee, and all bills must be countersigned by the president or the secretary. He shall annually, at least thirty days before July 1st, notify every member that his or her yearly contribution is due, and he shall specifically notify every member who is in arrears. He shall notify the secretary of members who are in arrears sixty days, and the secretary shall discontinue the Association paper to such members until arrears are paid. He shall give receipts for all dues received from members.

ARTICLE VII—DUTIES AND POWERS OF EXECTIVE COMMITTEE

Sec 1. The executive committee shall have the general management of the financial and other affairs of the Association. It shall have power to use any funds of the Association for purposes intended to promote the purposes and interests of this Association and its members. It shall provide proper and suitable rules and regulations for the guidance of the secretary and the treasurer in the prompt payment of bills in the proper conduct of the Association's business.

Sec. 2. It shall require the treasurer and secretary of the Association to give bond in such manner and amount as the committee may decided to be proper.

Sec. 3. It shall have power at all times to admit new members into the Association, and shall provide certificates of membership for all members, which certificates shall be signed by the president and countersigned by the secretary and bear the corporate seal.

Sec. 4. It shall, as soon as the financial condition of the Association justifies it, open and maintain an office at headquarters for the use of the secretary, and shall provide all the blanks, stationery and equipment necessary for the proper conduct of the business of the Association. It shall at the same time set in operation the specifications contained in Article V, Section 5.

Sec. 5. It shall establish and cause to be published an Association paper, in accordance with the provisions contained in Article XI, Section 1, and Article V, Section 5.

Sec. 6. It shall have power, by a vote of five of its seaen members, to suspend any officer from the discharge of his duties, for good and sufficiant reasons; provided, however, that such suspended member or officer shall have the right to appeal to the Association at the next regular meeting following such suspension.

Sec. 7. Four of the seven members of the executive committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, except in the case of suspension of members or officers, when it shall be necessary to have the votes of five of said committee.

Sec. 8. In case the executive committee is unable to hold a meeting, a vote by mail upon questions shall be allowed, in the following manner: The president shall submit the question to all members of the committee, and the same shall be seconded, and each member shall notify the president whether he votes for or against such question.

ARTICLE VIII—THE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

ec. 1. The president shall appoint an Advisory Committee, consisting of as many members as may be determined upon by the executive committee. The executive committee shall proceed on the basis of giving one such member to each district or community where there are a sufficient number of deaf people to entitle it to representation on the advisory committee. In all cases the president, in making appointments, shall consult the wishes of the representative deaf in each community and accord with the same as far as possible. Such appointments to the advisory committee shall be for a term of two years, signature of the president and secretary, and the corporate seal of the Association shall be affixed thereto.

Sec. 2. Every member of the advisory committee, when his appointment is issued, shall pledge himself to faithfully endeavor to promote the interests of the Association and increase the membership. He shall send correspondence to the Association paper. He shall correspond with the secretary, keeping the home office informed of important matters within his territory. He shall receive applications for membership and forward the same to the secretary.

Sec. 3. The members of the Advisory Committee shall have the prwer to vote proxies of members in their respective districts, at any regular convention, and shall have the right to nominate candidates for office, always first consulting their constituents in all matters of importance and acting as a cementing link between the Association and the members in their respective districts. They shall endeavor to organize the deaf in their respective districts into local associations whenever practicable; provided, however, that such organization shall in no wise affect such local member's individual membership or privileges under the National Association.

Sec. 4. The president of the Association shall, whenever it becomes expedient, authorize the sending of an alternate to any convention with the full powers of the advisory committee member from the same district, when the regular member is unable to attend the convention.

ARTICLE IX—NOMINATIONS

Sec. 1. One year prior to the date of holding a convention the executive committee shall request the advisory committee members to propose candidates for office. All names thus submitted shall be published in the Association paper for three months, in every issue.

Sec. 2. At the end of three months' publication of such names, the executive committee shall request the advisory committee to vote for candidates, and in each case the three names receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared by the executive committee as candidates for the respective offices.

ARTICLE X—METHOD OF VOTING

Sec. 1. In the election of officers and directors, if there is more than one candidate, the vote shall be taken by ballot. All other questions may be decided by viva voce vote.

Sec. 2. Proxies shall be voted on three questions only: 1, Election of officers; and directors; 2, Important resolutions; 3, Time and place for holding the succeeding convention. The executive committee shall decide the exact method in which proxies shall be voted; but all proxies shall be given on suitable forms provided by the committee, which forms shall contain the names of all the candidates, and each member giving his proxy shall be permitted to exercise his own choice, so far as possible, in his vote.

ARTICLE XI—THE ASSOCIATION PAPER

Sec. 1. The executive committee shall establish and cause to be published, at regular and suitable intervals, an Association paper (see Art. VII, Sec. 5), which paper shall be furnished to all good members in good standing free of charge. Said publication shall be edited by the secretary, as provided in Article V, Sec. 3, and news and articles of a pertinent nature shall be contributed by the members of his advisory committee from their respective districts; provided, however, that no member of the Association shall be debarred from writing for the paper independently. The paper shall at all times uphold the interests of the deaf in everything that effects their welfare, and be fearless and fair in advocating their rights.

Sec 2. All appointments, nominations, announcements and matters of an official nature, by officers of the association or by committees, shall be published in said Association paper.

ARTICLE XII—RESIGNATIONS AND EXPULSIONS

Sec. 1. Resignation from office or membership shall be submitted in writing to the executive committee, who shall take action thereon and report to the Assotiation at its next regular meeting.

Sec. 2. Any member may be expelled from all the rights and privileges of membership in the Association, for good and sufficient reasons, by a two-thirds vote of all members in attendance at any regular meeting. When the question of expulsion of any member arises the member in question shall have the right of speaking in his own behalf.

ARTICLE XIII—LOCAL COMMITTEE

Sec. 1. One year prior to the time of holding a convention, the president shall appoint a local committee consisting of three or more members, residing in the city where the convention is to be held.

Sec. 2. Said local committee shall have full power and authority to make arrangements for the entertainment of the convention, subject to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the executive committee.

ARTICLE XIV—INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS

Sec. 1. Officers shall be installed at the last sitting of the convention at which they are elected. Bonded officers may be installed, but shall not assume their duties until they have given satisfactory bonds.

Sec. 2. Any member elected to office, before assuming his duties, shall be required to take the following pledge: "I do hereby pledge myself to faithfully perform the duties of the office to which I am elected, to the best of my ability and for the benefit and honor of the Association."

ARTICLE XV—RULES OF ORDER

The proceedings of all meetings of the Association and all meetings of the executive committee shall be held according to common parliamentary law, as set forth in Roberts' Rules of Order.

ARTICLE XVI—AMENDMENTS.

Amendments to the By-Laws of the Association may be made at any regular meeting thereof, by a two-thirds vote of all the active members in attendance. Such proposed amendments shall be submitted in writing at least one day before vote is taken thereon.

ARTICLE XVII—QUORUM.

The active members of this Association, who shall be present at a regular meeting, or at a special meeting properly called, shall constitute a quorum, and a majority of said active members so present may transact any and all business of the Association.

ARTICLE XVIII—EXECUTION OF INSTRUMENTS.

All promissory notes or bills of exchange given or accepted by the Association shall be executed by the president and secretary as such officers, and all instruments under seal shall be executed by the president and secretary.

ARTICLE XIX—CORPORATE SEAL.

This Association shall have a corporate seal, which shall be affixed to all instruments to which the Association is a party. The secretary shall be the custodian of the said seal.

MR. HANSON'S AMENDMENTS.

MR. GEO. W. VEDITZ.
President National of the Deaf.

I move that the following amendments to the Constitution and By-Laws of the National Association of the Deaf, be adopted, to wit:

That Article II, of the Constitution be amended to read as follows:

ARTICLE II.—MEMBERSHIP

Any deaf citizen of the United States may become a member of this Association, subject to the approval of the Executive Committee, upon the payment of the initiation fee, and shall remain as such until membership is discontinued by resignation or otherwise as provided in the By-Laws.

(The object of this change is to make the membership permanent instead of transient.)

That all of Article VII, be struck out and the following substituted:

ARTICLE VII.—VOTING BY PROXY AND BY MAIL.

Sec. 1. Persons not present at a Convention may vote by proxy in the election of officers, and on any question that may be decided by a majority of the members present at the Convention.

Sec. 2. In voting proxies, no one person shall cast more than two hundred votes.

Sec. 3. Voting by mail may be authorized by the Executive Committee on any subject not inconsistent with action taken in convention. Action taken in convention shall take precedence of action taken by mail.

Sec. 4. The Executive Committee is authorized and instructed to make such rules as may be deemed suitable for carrying into effect the provisions of this article.

That the following additions be made to the By-Laws:

ARTICLE V.—QUALIFICATIONS.

Sec. 1. No person shall be entitled to vote who has not been a member of the Association for three months.

Sec. 2. No person shall be eligible to office in the Association who has not been a member for one year.

ARTICLE VI.—NOMINATIONS.

Officers shall be nominated by a mail vote at least three months before the holding of a Convention under such regulations as the Executive Committee may prescribe.

ARTICLE VII.—DISCONTINUANCE OF MEMBERSHIP.

Sec. 1. Any person wishing to withdraw from the Association may tender his resignation in writing to the Secretary, who shall present it to the Executive Committee for action. No person shall be allowed to resign, who has not paid all his dues.

Sec. 2. Any person in arrears one year shall be notified by mail to pay his dues together with a fine of ten cents. If two years in arrears he shall again be notified, with a fine of twenty cents. If three years in arrears he shall be notified, with a fine of thirty cents. If he does not pay up in full within thirty days after such third notice his name shall be dropped.

Sec. 3. A person dropped as provided in Sec. 2 of this article, can be reinstated only by being re-admitted in the same manner as a new member, but in addition to the initiation fee he must pay the amount due at the time his name was dropped from the roll.

ARTICLE VIII—OFFICIAL ORGAN.

Sec. 1. The Executive Committee is authorized and instructed to secure an official organ, either by publishing a paper or by arranging for space in an existing publication, provided that no debts may be contracted or obligations incurred beyond the regular income of the Association for one year.

Sec. 2. In selecting the official organ, the wishes of the members of the Association shall be consulted and followed as far as practicable.

Sec. 3. All official information shall be published in the official organ, and such publication shall be deemed sufficient notice to any member of the Association.

Sec. 4. No matter pertaining to the Association shall be published in the official organ without the approval of the president. The right to have all communications submitted to him before publication may be waived by the president, but his right to demand it at any time shall not be questioned.

Sec. 5. The president, with the approval of the Executive Committee, shall have power to appoint the editor of the official organ, and to make all necessary arrangements for publication.

Moved by OLOF HANSON.

ST. LOUIS.

J. H. May,—5851 Von Versen Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

W. H. Canode, of Fulton, Mo., arrived here on business and pleasure bent. He has been foreman of the tailor shop at the Institution, but during the vacation he would stay in St Louis provided a good chance comes his way.

The mother of Thomas Joell arrived here from Nebraska. She expects to remain in the city for the rest of the summer.

Herbert Matthews contemplates visiting his parents at Fredericktown, Mo., during the Fourth of July week. He is homesick, as he has not been under the parental roof for two years.

Mrs. Kate N. Blevins and daughter, departed for a fortnight visit to her sister, Mrs. Warr, at Brighton, Ill. Meanwhile hubby is trying to console himself as well as he can till his beloved ones return.

Theodore Pugge bears the reputation of never staying in any place very long. Just now he is boarding with Mr. and Mrs. Randolph of 306 Lami Street. They have three deaf children in the family. They are: Miss Birdie E. and Messrs. John and Laban Randolph. They formerly attended school at Fulton.

From a local paper: Carl Foster, a deaf man, of Springfield, Illinois, was killed recently by a Chicago and Alton train near East Alton, Ill. The coroner notified relatives of Springfield, who had the remains shipped to their destination.

Miss Yetta Baggermann and P. T. Hughes, teachers in the Oklahoma School for the Deaf, are home on their vacation. They expect to spend their time here till school opens again in the fall.

Miss Ivy Myers is visiting friends in Kansas City, Mo.

Chas. Wolff and his housekeeper, Mrs. Gotthainer, have moved into a better flat at 1434 Arlington Ave., where they shall be pleased to have friends call.

From the Republic: Recently, through the appeals of three deaf-mutes, neighbors with difficulty learned that Clemens Behr, three-year son of Mr. and Mrs. V. Behr, of 3822 Indiana Avenue, was lost. The Behrs are deaf-mutes, but their four children are not so afflicted.

Clemens climbed out of a window, and ran away, while his mother was busy in an adjoining room. At noon she missed him and a search of the immediate neighborhood failed to locate him. Becoming alarmed she sent a boarder at the house (also a mute) for her husband.

The three mutes called at all the houses in the block, looking for the little one. They made signs in an endeavor to tell people of their distress. Their grief was so evident, (even if silent) that their neighbors volunteered to help in the hunt, after they learned of Clemens' disappearance.

The mother hurried to the bank of the river and walked distractedly up and down looking out over the water for the body of her son. She could not be convinced that he was not drowned and would not leave the vicnity of the water-front till Clemens was returned to her by a blue-coat.

Patrolman Krueger found Clemens playing with a lot of little children at Broadway and Osage Streets.

Miss Celia Mahon returned from a several days' stay at her old home in Alton, Illinois. While there she enjoyed several long rides with a friend in an automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglass Mitchelson, of Chicago, Ill., were among the out of-town visitors in St. Louis recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Baird and child, of Vincent, Ind, arrived here for a few day's visit with friends. They wished to stay longer, but could not do so.

Mrs. Harry Aldrich, who has been confined at St. Luke's Hospital over one month, on account of undergoing an operation, leaves the hospital this week and will go to her parents' home in Madison, Ill., for a rest.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Gilmour returned from a pleasant visit to Mrs. Gilmour's brother in High Ridge, Mo. They expect to go there again about July 4th, when John will hunt squirrels.

G. W. Clark's only child, who has been a victim of diphtheria and scarlet fever has recovered. The house has been fumigated.

Mr. Lamb (hearing son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Harden) has started a moving-picture show, near the corner of Park and Nebraska Avenues. He shall be pleased to have his deaf friends patronize him.

A certain spot in the Merchant's Hotel near Twelfth and Olive Streets is becoming popular as a meeting place for sportive and other mutes. It is becoming known as "the dummy's lobby." Saturday afternoon the following deaf were seen discussing various topics: Messrs. Canode, Chenery, Cupps, Burgherr, Matthews, Joell, and ye scribe and Blevins.

WASHINGTON

The annual "hot spell" that strikes this burg about the time Gallaudet College closes came along as usual this year, but as it only lasted about three days, we haven't much to complain about.

Shortly after the degrees had been handed out to the class of '10. Mr. Isaac Allison had a large force of men at work, tearing up the structure that was burned last February, preparatory for its remodelling and re-building. Among those who have been retained to help Mr. Allison are Messrs. Isaacson, Hower and Elmer.

Messrs. Jones, Craven, and Bowen expect to get work at Camp Good Will, near the District, about the first of July.

There are three of the present graduating class still in town. They are Messrs. Bieri and Holliday and Miss Roath. Mr. Holliday and Miss Roath leave for home Sunday, while Mr. Bieri remains till Monday or Tuesday.

Dr. Gallaudet, as usual, will spend most of the summer at Branford, Ct.

Prof. Bryant and family and Mr. Benedict will also spend their vacation in Connecticut near the Gallaudet homestead.

Prof. Hall, the incoming president of Gallaudet College, is still on the Green, but as soon as he gets matters fixed up will leave for a trip north and west ending at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Dr. Fay and family are on their way to Nantucket, their usual place of sojourn during the summer.

Dr. Hotchiss has been in Easton, Pa., where he went to see his son, Burton graduated from Lafayette College. He is expected back on the Green shortly.

Dr. and Mrs. Day have hied themselves to the dear old "Blue Grass State" and will there remain until Dr. Day's duties call him back.

The members of Calvary Baptist Deaf Mute Mission and their friends to the number of about fifty tried to spring a surprise upon Prof. and Mrs. Bryant and give them a farewell party a few evenings before they left for their summer home. It was not much of a surprise however as some body let the "cat out of the bag" and the Bryants were next to our game. However a general good time was had by everybody. Much praise is due Miss Sadie Dailey, who single-handed arranged the affair.

Miss Maud Edington gave her friend, Miss Prevatt, a surprise party the other evening to which most all the mutes in town were invited and every body invited was there testifying to the popularity of the two young ladies.

Master Wallace Edington will enter Gallaudet College this fall, he having passed the entrance examinations with flying colors. Wallace will be one of the youngest that ever entered Gallaudet he being only a little past fifteen years of age. He is a fine boy and we are all pleased at his success and wish him well during his college course.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Painter invited a number of their old time friends to a party, one evening a week or so ago, "to meet a friend." This "friend" proved to be none other than Mrs. Winnie Painter Burton, the former Washington beauty. Mrs. Burton is in town for a month's visit to relatives and friends. The air of the Old Dominion seems to agree with Mrs. Burton, as far as "looks" are concerned any way. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Dowell, Mr. and Mrs. Souder, Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Pfunder and Misses Dailey, King and Schofield.

Messrs. Wm. Duval, Jr. and Wm. Hokemeyer, of Baltimore, Md., are in the city and will remain for about a week.

Miss Prevatt has been visiting with Miss Edington since College closed. Thursday Misses Edington and Prevatt and Messrs. Wallace Edington and Bowen took a ride down the river to Colonial Beach. The next day the same young ladies escorted by Messrs. Bowen and Bernsdorff went over to Chesapeake Beach where old Neptune invited them to the delights of the briny deep.

The Bible Class of Calvary Mission will have an excursion to Chesapeake Beach either July 2d or July 16th. The exact date not having been decided upon yet. Mr. and Mr. Flood and Mr Edington compose the committee in charge of the affair.

NEW YORK.

News items for this column, should be sent direct to the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL Station M, New York.

A few words of information in a letter or on a postal card is sufficient. We will do the rest.

A quiet but very happy June wedding took place in the chapel of St. Joseph's Institute, Fordham, Wednesday evening, June 27th, the contracting parties and their attendants all being prominent among the Catholic deaf who know St. Joseph's as Alma Mater. The groom was Mr. Frank A. Brown, of this city, and the bride, Miss Agnes Cecelia McDermott, of Jersey City, N. J. Miss Teresa Agnes McCarthy, the bridesmaid, is also a resident of the latter city. The best man was Mr. John D. Shea Following the tieing of the nuptial knot by the Rev. M. R. McCarthy, S. J., the priestly blessing was bestowed, and in a pleasant way he admonished the couple on the sacredness of the marriage tie, telling the story of Our Lord's presence at the wedding feast, and of their duties to themselves and to Mother Church.

Following the ceremony, Father McCarthy officiated at Benediction, attended by Mr. George Brown, a hearing brother of the groom, who ten or more years ago frequently served the celebrant at Mass at St. Francis Xavier's, and whose retirement from the duties of altar boy was a source of much regret to the Fathers of that church. During Benediction a choir of ladies of St Joseph's rendered "O Salutaris" and "Tantum Ergo," with organ accompaniment, to the pleasure of those present who could hear.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a Princess dress of white batiste, with a handsome white picture hat overtopped with waving ostrich plumes. She carried an immense bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a white dress trimmed with lace and blue ribbon and her hat was set off with pink roses. Her bouquet was composed of June roses and sweet peas. The groom and his best man wore summer suits of dark material.

After receiving the congratulations of their relatives and friends present in the parlor of the institute, the wedding party entered two automobiles and were whisked away to pay their respects to and receive the blessing of Mr. Brown's mother, whose illness, as well as the illness of his sister, Mrs. Chas. W. Van Baar, wife of the well known orchestra and band leader of this city, was the reason of the ceremonies being of a private nature.

During the summer months Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown will spend their time at a nearby seaside resort, and on their return to the city in the Fall will make their home in the Van Baar domicile on the upper West side of town.

He was returning home last Saturday shortly after midnight, in company of Mr. Louis Lowenstein. They parted at 127th Street and Seventh Avenue, Mr. McKerahan proceeding onward to his home at 135th Street. He had reached 133d Street and Seventh Avenue, when he was approached by five negroes, one of whom asked for money. He made signs to inform them that he had none, when he was suddenly struck on the back of the head with a black jack, which crushed his skull. As he fell, he was either kicked in the back, or hit with some hard instrument. He lay unconscious until five o'clock in the morning when a policeman found him and telephoned for an ambulance.

At this writing he is conscious but paralized, and unable to talk with his fingers. The doctors operated on his back, and found the spinal cord crushed, and announce that he can not live many days.

Irwin A. Oppenheimer is having a great time traveling through England and Scotland. He made an extensive tour in London, saw Stratford on Avon and the home of Shakespeare; and in the land of Robbie Burns he tarried at Ayr, saw the scenes of Scott's Lady of the Lake, Edinburgh Castle, Stirling Castle, and the haunts of the Clans of the MacGregors, Gordons and Mackenzies.

Messrs. Pach and Lounsbury dodged the intense heat of the city Saturday via Sheepshead Bay, and then out oceanward on the auxiliary schooner "Kanima." Skates, dog-fish and sea-robins were evidently hungry that day, but the above two of gentleman anglers confess they caught one fluke each. They met H. Bernhardt on the homeward trudge, who modestly claimed two flukes and one flying fish as his reward on the "Nimbus."

The Brooklyn Frats held their regular meeting Saturday, and in spite of the great humidity and heat, about thirty-five members were present. It was decided to skip the August meeting, so its members can enjoy themselves at the League of Elect Surds picnic at Ulmer Park, on Saturday, August 6th. A. Cohen, of the Chicago Division, was an interested visitor.

Mrs. Catherine Talley, mother of Mrs. James F. Lonergan, died on the third of June, after two months of illness, aged seventy-four years, and was buried in Calvary Cemetery. May she rest in peace.

Mrs. Marcus L. Kenner and little son will pass the summer at Lake Kiamesha, Sullivan Co., for which place they left last Tuesday. Mr. Kenner will follow later, but his joy will be limited to ten days.

Mrs. Harry C. Dickerson and daughter have gone to Allerton, Mass., for the summer. Mr. Dickerson will join them on August first, and remain for a month.

Miss Bertha Thiessen, Gallaudet College graduate of this year, was in New York for several days last week. She will remain in the East for a few weeks before going to her home in Washington State.

Mrs. Moses W. Loew and daughter have gone to Dutchess Junction for three weeks, as guests of Mrs. Travis H. Whitney, whose husband is the secretary of the Public Service Commission.

Mrs. Bella Changuon and her daughter are spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Felix Simonson. They will return to Bridgeport, Ct., for the summer.

Herman Eschert, who some months ago injured his cripped leg and had it amputated, is now back at his old job in an Upper East Side cigar factory.

Miss Nathalie A. Hifton, of this city, departed for Monticello, N. Y., on Saturday, July 2d, and she will remain at her summer boarding house all summer until September.

Contrary to published expectation, A. H. Kohlmetz will not break up housekeeping, but continue at his old home at 225 East 70th Street.

Mrs. Hannah Vetterlein and daughter, Miss Helen, will during the month take short sojourns to Albany and then to Boston.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Galland has been in a hospital for some weeks with scarlet fever, but is about well and is soon to leave.

Mrs. Simon Hirsch and her cousin, Miss Stella, Hirsch will leave for the Catskills very soon, to stay until September.

OHIO.

July 2, 1910—When the young friends of Ruth Carroll bid her good-bye at the close of school in June, no one dreamed that it would be a last farewell. Word has come of her death from tuberculosis about a week or so after the children had departed for home. Her young friends will miss her next year.

Many friends will regret to hear of the death of Mrs. Mamie Rutter Garretson. We have been unable to obtain the particulars of her death.

There will be quite an exodus from the city for the Fourth. Mr. and Mrs. Tadoit Miller, Fred Schwartz and family, Misses Jones, Biggam and Druggan have rented a cottage at Buckeye Lake for a few days' outing. Part of the crowd went out Friday, the rest leave today. They will be back by Tuesday.

Mrs. Callison leaves for Zanesville to-night to spend the Fourth with her parents.

Another crowd will spend the day at the Home for the Aged Deaf. Fireworks will be a feature of the evening out there.

Our School, this year, has lost two of its most faithful and efficient employes. Mr. August Beckert who for many years has been Boys' Supervisor has resigned as has also Mr. Clifford Rose, who for twenty eight years has been connected with the laundry.

Mr. Beckert has gone to his home in Piqua to give his mother a helping hand on the farm for a while. He will afterwards go to Sandusky, where he has secured employment in the Davis Boat Work. What is the School's loss is Mr. Davis' gain. Mr. Rose will stay with his mother in Granville, O.

The lawn and the lot adjoining Miss Gourley's home on South Fourth Street was the scene of a pleasant gathering last Saturday

In order to earn their five dollars pledge to the Ladies' Aid Society, Miss Gourley and Miss Dillon gave a lawn fete at the former's home. The affair was a success, the young ladies making, we understand, $4.50 each. We hope all the other ladies can make as good a show at the December meeting of the Society.

Miss Olga Wittenmeier, who for several years was connected with the Ohio School as Supt's stenographer and as teacher, but who has been teaching in Providence, R. I., the past year, was married in the latter city, June 15th to a doctor, of this city. The couple will be at home, at 1680 E. Main Street, after July 10th.

Mr. William Toomey, on his way home from Gallaudet College, stopped here for a few hours' visit with old friends last Tuesday, Dr and Mrs. Patterson entertained him, and Mr. Schory, who happened to be a grass-widower for the time being, at dinner. Mrs Schory had gone east for a few days' visit with relatives.

Word has been received of the marriage of Mr. Michael Gaeb and Mrs. Clara Wittrock, both of Cincinnati.

Wilbur Mayer and Juliana Clum, little children of Wm. Mayer and George Clum, have undergone a siege of measles.

Work in the State Bindery has been very slack, something very unusual for the summer months. Misses Dressback and Turvey have secured a temporary job with the Stoneman Bindery.

Miss Myrtle Wise has taken advantages of this slack of work and gone to Battle Creek, Michigan, to visit her brother, who is in the sanitarium there.

Miss Clara Osborn is working for Mrs. Schumacker on South Monroe Street.

Charles Pardy, who recently left the Ohio School, has been admitted to the Home for the Aged Deaf. Being young, but not bright, he will be placed directly in the care of Mr. Shade, who will teach him farm work. It is hoped that within a few years he will have learned enough to make his own living.

The home garden is coming out finely now. Superintendent Chapman was able to sell two bushels of peas recently.

Rev. Mr. Allabough, of Pittsburg, will give a reading on "The Gunmaker of Moscow," July 9th, at the Trinity Parish House at 7:30. Admission, fifteen cents.

Mr. Allabough will also conduct services at the same place Sunday morning and afternoon..

Misses Mary Gourley and Edna Dillon gave a lawn fete at the formers home on South Fourth Street, for the benefit of the Home for Aged Deaf, last Saturday, was well patronized by the deaf and hearing friends.

Ernest Zell has four oil paintings in the collection shown by the Pen and Pencil at the "Made-in-Columbus" Exposition now on at the State Fair Grounds. The School for the Deaf also has an exhibit. The exposition is a great eye-opener as to the manufactures of Columbus

Edward Burke, who has been assisting in the printing office the past six months, has returned to his home near Wapakoneta. His father will be happy to have his help in the harvest this summer.

Joseph Turvey, who came two weeks ago to work in the Institution, has returned home to Lawrence County on account of poor health.

CINCINNATI, O.

The St. Xavier Deaf Club again gave its annual Basket Picnic last Sunday, June 26th. The Committe were: Fred O'Brien, chairman, Harry O'Donnel and Thomas Serrage. The way they handled and arranged were admirable. Games and prizes awarded: For Boys—100 yards dash, J. Meagher; Fat Men—100 yards dash, L. J Bacheberle; For Ladies—75 yards dash, Miss C Schoppel; Fungo batting, John J. Wagner; Broad Jump, J. F. C. Welte.

The best feature of the day was the baseball game between the St. Xavier and N. F. S. D. teams. Day before the game the N. F. S. D. boys openly boasted that they would lick the St. Xavier boys. They were so confident of their six victories and felt sure they would make it seven with Ray Conkling in the box. This gent Conkling is reputed to possess a dozen tricks in curves, benders, rings, etc., while the St. Xavier boys were quiet and calm but determined to try their best to humble the N. F. S. D. It was a close and exciting game, finally the St. Xavier galloped away by a nose. It was hard for the other to lose. Two of N. F. S. D. players were absent, so L. J. Bacheberle and Max Blackschlyer were substituted. Score:—

M. B. Key and George Tobin officiated the game fairly.

Next August 6th the N. F. S. D. will have its picnic at Rosedale, Ky., and asked St. Xavier for a return match. It was given.

James Vahey, H. Chambers and Paul Riedel, of Indianapolis, dropped in town some time ago on an excursion.

Widower Michael Gaeb and widow Mrs. Clara Wittrock were made one on Saturday, June 26th, and took a honeymoon trip to the picnic with St. Xavier.

Matthew Buck and Florence Eslinger were married on the 25th of June. It was their intention to have the wedding bells ring some time next year, but the bride's mother is in feeble condition and it was her wish to see her daughter married happily earlier

Forrest Moore, of Dayton, O., was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Goldberg for two days.

Miss Flora Newman, of Zanesville, secured a position in the shirt factory in this city last week. She boards with Mr. and Mrs James Shopshire.

More than twenty mutes are expecting to attend the reunion at Columbus on September 2d till 4th.

Ray Bingaman had the pleasure of visiting his best friend, Homer Craig at his farm near Georgetown, Ohio, last Decoration Day. He reported that Homer and his two mute sisters were doing nicely.

Harry O'Donnell will be in Columbus some time this month.

Mrs. August Querengasser has gone to Indianapolis to spend a week with her parents.

Abraham Goldberg recently went to Dayton to spend a week with Mr. and Mrs. Bice. He had an enjoyable time escorting Misses Ethel Hixon and Marie Gross to some resort parks of that town.

PHILADELPHIA.

News items for this column should be sent to James S. Reider, 1538 North Dover Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Gallaudet Club held its June quarterly meeting at the house of Mr. William H. Lipsett, 1309 Christian Street, on Saturday evening, 18th of June. Over three fourths of the members were present, President Breen in the chair. Business was despatched and an early adjournment made, following which a social time was had. The members were also treated to an appetizing luncheon which the Lipsett family set up in pleasing style.

By the will of the late Joseph Mekeal, friend and patron of the Home for Blind, Aged and Infirm Deaf at Doylestown, the Home is bequeathed the sum of two thousand dollars ($2000.) It was generally believed that Mr. Mekeal would endow the Home with a larger sum, but we are even grateful for the sum mentioned above.

From the Philadelphia Record, June 14th, 1910—Seven-year-old Thomas King was probably fatally burned yesterday while playing at his home, No. 2816 North Warnock Street. The boy, who was a deaf-mute, accidentally upset an oil lamp and the oil catching fire from the range, caused the lamp to explode. The blazing oil covered the boy from head to foot and his clothing was burned to a crisp before the flames could be extinguished by his frightened mother and neighbors. The little fellow had been born with six fingers and toes on each hand and foot, and was the pet of the family and neighbors.

The boy's death was reported the following day by the same paper:—Seven-year-old Thomas King, the mute son of Michael King, No. 2816 Warnock Street, who was burned from head to foot by the explosion of an oil lamp at his home on Monday night, died a few hours later at the Samaritan Hospital. Dr. Boehringer, who had charge of the case, stated that every part of the boy's anatomy was burned except the top of his head.

A hatless, coatless and peninless little stranger arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Waterhouse, in Camden, N. J., on Friday afternoon, June 24th. He received a hearty welcome and will stay with the family.

The Men's Club of All Souls' Church held its final meeting prior to closing for the Summer season on Tuesday evening, 21st of June. It was an unusually pleasant affair, as on this night ladies were admitted. The Men's Club treated its sister organization, the Ladies' Pastoral Aid Society, to ice cream and cake, and shared with it the pleasures of the occasion.

The Clerc Literary Association has arranged for an excursion to Wildwood, N. J., via the West Jersey and Sea Shore Railroad, on Saturday, July 9th, 1910. The round trip will cost one dollar for adults and fifty cents for children. The last boat to connect with the combination excursion train will leave Market Street wharf at 7 A.M., sharp. Returning, it will leave Wildwood at 6 P.M. Under the arrangement a whole car will be assigned to the deaf party so that they can enjoy the trip together. Now, here is a splendid opportunity for our deaf who can not spend a vacation at the shore to enjoy a day there. A change to the refreshing sea air ought to be the greatest inducement to join the excursion, and we hope that many will be able to take the opportunity. Every one is welcome—the dear wife and the dear little ones, the blushing sweethearts, the beaux that are and to be, the shy old maids, the bachelors who have loved and lost, and those who still stand a chance, the merry widows and widowers, and, of course, the grandmothers and grandfathers, too.

We must express our admiration for two friends, of New York, who, apparently without collusion, remembered the Philadelphia correspondent with elaborate pictures of "hoss" cars in the same week, recently. When we get more such curiosities, we may be able to open "hoss"-car art gallery for the benefit of the Doylestown Home.

Mrs. Geo. T. Sanders recently underwent an operation at the Pennsylvania Hospital that was so successful that she was detained at the hospital only six days.

A favorite sister in-law of Mr. Thomas D. Delp died on Sunday, June 19th, in Pittsburg. Her remains were brought to Philadelphia for burial.

Mr. Harry E. Stevens has invested in a microscope to enable him to pass his leisure time in the study of bugdom, et cetera. What a terror he will be to the famed Jersey mosquitoes!

Orvis DeWitt Dantzer, elder son of Rev. Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Dantzer, graduated from the Episcopal Academy on June. 7th. He may enter college in the Fall, but has not definitely decided as yet. Young Freddie expects to graduate from the same academy in a year or so.

Mrs. David Wilson is enjoying a short sojourn at Atlantic City. Her husband joins her at the end of the week and both will spend the Fourth there.

Miss Katharine Kehl and Mr. Martin C. Pachtmann were married on Wednesday afternoon, June 22d The ceremony took place in All Souls' Church for the Deaf, the Rev. C. O. Dantzer officiating. A reception followed in the evening.

Mrs. John O'Neill, of Phoenixville, Pa., has been visiting her brother in this city for the last three weeks, returning home on Sunday evening. Her brother was recently presented with interesting twins.

Mrs. Annie Roland's husband died at the Philadelphia Hospital on Friday, June 24th. Mrs. Roland is suffering from a malady which almost renders her helpless and the death is therefore a hard blow to her. Much sympathy is felt for her.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. Pennell visited Mr. and Mrs. John O'Neill in Phoenixville recently.

Mr. Elmer Scott is probably the best trained deaf athlete here. He takes part in athletic events almost every Saturday, competing with the clubs of the hearing On June 18th, he ran at Washington Park, 26th Street and Allegheny Avenue, events of the Artisan's Order of Mutual Protection; on June 25th, with the Brussels Carpet Union's events.

Another younger athlete is Martin A. Cavendish. He also competes in many events of hearing athletic Clubs. He has made the following engagements:

July 2—At New York, with Deaf-Mutes.
July 16—At Newark, with Deaf-Mutes.
July 22—At Forrest Park, with Hearing.
August 17—At Augustine Park, with Hearing.

SPECIAL—Edward D. Wilson died suddenly on Saturday, July 2d. Funeral occured on Monday morning, July 4th.

Rome—The Wondrous City of the Tiber.

This Eternal City is a marvel of human history and human genius.

As we study its antiquity, greatness, wealth, and splendour, we begin to be enthralled by its indescribable charm. It not only stands now for human progress and freedom, but for its past power and conquest, from the days of Romulus to imperialism, from the Cæsars to the Popes. Liberty, law, beauty, mighty men, colonization, cruelty, luxury, strife, decline, desolation, restoration and grandeur, typify Rome in its 2500 years or more of varied existence.

The mind and heart are alike inspired with wonder, admiration, fascination, mingled with condemnation, pity and great educational interest. Rome is the world upon a reduced scale. Here the thoughtful mind can study human nature, civil and ecclesiastical government, as nowhere else.

The greatest study of mankind is man, and whom here we see, in all his transformation, from poverty to wealth, from weakness to power, from nobleness to meanness, from the hut to the palace, from humbleness to glory, and from greatness to desolation. Every walk around modern Rome awakens memories of the past—historical, archæological, architectural. Human government, Religion, morality, humanitarianism, and tyranny, in all their many phases, quickens the thought, stirs the pathos, and awakens interest. In imagination, the student can view the world of men and events, to immense instruction and inspiration. Adventurers, founders, kings, consuls, tribunes, emperors, popes, invaders, vandals and reformers, pass in swift succession upon the vision. The ruins, hills, tombs, aqueducts, catacombs, temples, churches, palaces, arches, bridges, amphitheabes, castles, pyramids, fountains and villrs, call ancient and medieval times vividly to the mind. Add to these the Vatican, St. Peter's galleries, the obelisks, the Quirinal, modern statues, monuments, governmental buildings, and the thousands of modern buildings that adorn regenerated Rome; and "men of thought and men of action" have a panorama of the evolution of a great city nowhere else to be so well studied. Classic Rome! Medieval and Modern Rome! What a picture of the transformation of two thousand years in a European city. The stories of the old kings, the old republic, the emperors, the early Christians, and the Papacy, are all very instructive. From the year 1870, the history of Rome is that of the kingdom of Italy; a modern constitutional wise government. Freedom and religious toleration has been justly established, prosperity and progress inaugurated, the population of Rome quadrupled, the city and campagna made healthful, Public Schools instituted, the freedom of the Press guaranteed, primitive Christianity flourishing again, and Rome, a clean progressive city.

ROME, ITALY, MAY 29, 1910.

HENRY M. HALL.

The Writing on the Sand.

A lady missionary in India had gone to speak to the people in a neighboring village. She had taken with her a Hindu girl who was deaf and dumb. The people gathered round out of curiosity at first, but some began to oppose and tried to make a tumult. "My friends," began the lady, but a dozen voices cried out and drowned her words. "What shall I do?" she thought. Meanwhile, the noise increased. Something must be done, and done quickly. "Write on the sand 'God is love,'" she signed to the Hindu girl beside her. First the little deaf and dumb girl expressed the words on her fingers and then she wrote them on the ground. When she began a great hush fell on the crowd, and they watched her in silence as she inscribed "God is love" in large letters in the sand. Of course the text was in Hindustani. "See what this girl has written for you to read," said the lady. "Speak to her. She is deaf and dumb, as you will at once discover." Several came timidly forward and spoke to the child. One or two came forward and read the words. "Let others come," said the lady. In a long line the people of the village walked past the text in the sand and read it. Then they formed a ring round the lady and the deaf and dumb child, and sat down to be taught. And some of them on that very day began to serve the true God.

"Freely ye have received, freely give." What a privilege to have had Jesus for a teacher! And what a responsibility it placed upon those who had been taught by him! How could they do enough and say enough to pass along the benefit received? Since the days of the apostles there have been many faithful preachers and teachers who have tried to give freely what they have received; notably Rowland Hill, who averaged three hundred and fifty sermons a year to his eighty-ninth year. And John Wesley nearly twice as many—40,560 as against 22,291. Whitefield preached 18,000 sermons. Charles Wesley wrote 5,000 hymns. He hath done what he could, she hath done what she could, might be spoken of many earnest Christian workers. And none of them ever think they have paid in full the debt of love they owe.

A story is told of a man in Minnesota living in a beautiful mansion, which had a lighthouse on the top. He was asked why he had put it there, and he replied that many years before, when traveling home across the prairie, a terrible snowstorm overtook him. He was just lying down to die when he saw a light in the distance. He made for it, and it brought him to a log cabin. Thus his life was preserved. Afterward he built a house, and set a light on it that it might guide to safety other lost travelers.—Ex.

FANWOOD.

Last Saturday afternoon, the Currier's, an organized team from Fanwood, played a hard-fought game against the Broadway Athletic Club, a neighboring team from Fort Washington Heights, and were finally downed by the narrow margin of one run. Score, 8 to 7 in favor of the Broadway Athletic Club. Blechner began the game by twirling poor ball for the home team, allowing his visitors to gain two runs and giving four balls on bases in one chapter. The next inning Dennan took the mound for the home team, twirling excellent ball and thus making the game difficult for the visitors to capture. In this inning the opponents put three runs over the rubber by bad fielding. The game was captured in the final chapter with an errror by Kabanovitch. The fine batting of Tom James, Altenderfer, Margraf and Dennan, were the features of the game. Altenderfer hit for two bases twice, and James duplicated this feat. Dennan and Lieberz also got free rides to second base. Dennan's excellent pitching and Lieberz's fine pegging to second deserves some credit. Those who participated in the game for the Currier's were: Dennan, p, 3b; Blechner, p, 3b; Lieberz, c; Margraf, 1b; Altenderfer, 2b; Kabanovitch, ss; James, l.f; Brinn, c.f; and Walter, r.f. As it was impossible for the writer to get a complete detail of the game, the score by innings is appended below:—

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
B'way A. C.	0	2	3	0	0	0	1	0	2—8
Curriers	0	1	0	5	1	0	0	0	0—7

Batteries: Breen and Wasdell; Blechner, Dennan and Lieberz.

Cadet Color Sergeant Dennan and Adjudant Blechner are in receipt of pretty souvenir post-cards from James H. Quinn and George K. S. Gompers. The latter two were mentioned in last week's issue of the JOURNAL. They are now enjoying a visit through the city of Montreal, and next week they depart for their respective homes. All hope that they have enjoyed themselves hugely and have learnt a great deal about the Dominion north of the United States.

Sunday, the third of July, William C. Wren, a former pupil of this Institution, who graduated from the 1909 High Class, visited his Almer Mater. He resides in Garfield, N. J.

Abraham and Nathan Mofsovitz (twins) were visitors at Fanwood last Sunday afternoon. They came here after having a dip in the Hudson.

Most of the sporting cranks here took keen interest in the great fight between Jack Johnson, the heavyweight colored champion of the world, and James Jefferies, who was trying to wrest the championship from him. Too bad that their favorite Jeff lost, but some day that big coon will be knocked off his feet by some white fighter. Sure!

Independence Day, July 4th, was observed with due regard at this Institution. In the afternoon, at dinner-time the pupils were treated, in the shape of a feast of ice-cream, which was tendered through the kindness of Principal Currier. Many thanks.

Last Wednesday afternoon, William Krieger, a graduate of Fanwood from this year's graduation class, visited the JOURNAL office on important business with Editor Hodgson.

Miss Agnes Craig, girls' tutoress, departed for her home in Philadelphia, Pa., where she will spend her four weeks' vacation, last Friday morning. We hope she has a pleasant stay under the parental roof until she returns.

Principal Currier was surprised and pleased to receive a call from Mr. and Mrs Collins (nee Lizzie Murphy) of Rome, N. Y., on Tuesday last. They are both graduates of Fanwood of over thirty years ago. They marvelled at the great changes and improvements at the Institution since their day.

HARRY J. GOLDBERG

How Mr. Axling accepts a Nomination.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—I read how Mr. Axling accepted a nomination which he published it in the JOURNAL.

I read it which was the funniest way to accept the nomination which I ever heard.

I remember how I read what Mr. Taft wrote when he accepted his nomination for a President of the United States. He did not tell the people what Mr. J. W. Bryan had said to his friends in his private letters that he was a fat old fat-head, who traveled about the Panama Canal and the Philipino Islands to have a good time without paying one cent.

He told the people what he would do if he was elected a President about the downward tariff and a postage savings bank and the trusts, etc.

Mr. Bryan was the same way. He did not tell the democrat people that Taft wrote Mr. Bryan's friends that he was a gas bag and slot-in-the-nickel statesman, and therefore he would be a candidate against him. He told them how he would establish the revenues for the tariff only, and how representation without the taxation was a tyranny, and how the United States would buy all the railroads and other things.

Mr. Axling ought to have followed the examples which I have told you about Mr. Taft and Mr. J. W. Bryan.

He was a big mistake to tell people that Mr. Hanson was a weak and vacillating platform [Mr. Editor please tell me what is a vacillating platform?] He also was a larger mistake which he tried to prove that Mr. Hanson was not the square minded gentleman in his letters. I think that Mr. Axling's friends are n. g. because they showed him Mr. Hanson's mad letters which he could publish if he wanted. Mr. G. Cleveland formerly used to say that the public office is the public trust. I will copy him to write that the private letter is the private trust. I do not think that such people are the good and honorable friends, and I do not think that Mr. Axling is the good and honorably advised man to be our President of the N. A. D. I want to ask Mr. Axling what he wrote the letters about Mr. Hanson to his friends. They are both sticks with the same tar. Mr. Hanson has the right to think which he pleases it about Mr. Axling and Mr. Axling has the same free right about Mr. Hanson, and both of them have the right to think the same about me, which I don't care. I will tell everybody my name after Colorado Springs.

But did Mr. Axling tell the truthful truth? I think Mr. Hanson's platform and plan which I saw and have never read them were published in the papers a long time before Mr. Spear's plan jumped out of his mind into Mr. Axling's head. Mr. Axling said "a strong sentiment all over the United States was favorable to his Spear plan," but Mr. Hanson refused to accept it because he liked his own plan better. Mr. Axling must correct his sentence. He must say that Mr. Spear refused to accept Mr. Hanson's plan which was first and he invented his own plan afterward. This is a great deal of difference. Mr. Axling must be more careful.

We understand without one eye to see, that if Mr. Hanson obeyed Mr. Spear's commands and kicked out his own plan, Mr. Spear would take Mr. Hanson on his knee and ride him a cockhorse to Banbury Cross and feed him with chocolate fudge and a milk bottle and nominate him twice a week for the President, Secretary, etc. But Mr. Hanson's mind is hard and strong because he is a man, so Mr. Spear took Mr. Axling on his knee and put a bib and tucker and dog-collar around his neck and fed him with his plan out of his Minneapolis sovenir spoon and milk bottle. He has a little Ax-ling to grind, which is a good joke.

I feel sure if we elect the President for Mr. Hanson, we will have a single president which is Mr. Hanson. If we elect Mr. Axling for the President we will have the multiplied president whose names are Spear, Howard, Rev. Cloud, and the friends who sent him Mr. Hanson's letters to publish them. Poor Mr. Axling will be nowhere like the major domo kings of France which I read about them in Peter Parley's Universal History.

Now I want to ask Mr. Axling a few questions which I am in a habit of interrogating.

What are "the undertakings that must of necessity be carried out" which you said in your letter of acceptance? I want to know what they are exactly before I vote for you. Why do you not resign the Federation Committee the same you resigned the Washington State Society? You cannot be a Spear plan and a Federation Committee at the same time. Mr. Long was the honest gentleman, different from you about that which I read his letter in Success.

Please show me the "spirit of advancement and progress of the Spear platform?" I think a Spear platform and a Spear plan are different as the constitution of the United States is different from a Taft or a Bryan platform. Please tell me where I can read this platform and I am much obliged to you. Do you mean that Mr. Spear's platform is the constitution of the N. A. D? I never heard that Mr. Taft's platform was the constitution of the United States.

Why are you and Mr. Spear very anxious about the president? In my letter last week I showed that that the Secretary was the grand push Budweiser bottle washer in and out of the Spear plan. Then why does Mr. Axling chase the empty glory and try to buy it with the loss of many friends who used formerly to have the good opinion that he was the fine gentleman like Mr. Spear described, and now think he is the bug-in-his-head office hunter? I think Mr. Axling is paying dear for a whistle.

Does Mr. Axling think the Independence League will vote for him because he is the pure gentleman and not the Gallaudeterite? Did he write the League to help him? Did Mr. Spear write a letter to the League?

I want to know WHO wrote the Spokane resolution? I do not think Mr. J. O'Leary wrote it, because the language is very beautiful more than my language. I think Mr. Axling wrote the language himself, or he corrected the mistakes like Mr. Ballinger corrected the mistakes in Mr. Lawler's letter. May be Mr. Spear wrote them because the words are like Mr. Spear's beautiful language. Tell me Mr. Axling if Mr. Spear who is the Earl of Warwick kingmaker boss of the N. A. D, and got beheaded saw them before they were printed in all the Institution newspapers, and I am much obliged to you.

I think this is a machine politics which Rev. Cloud who is the pious preacher to the deaf-mutes every Sunday hates like the hell. How can Rev. Cloud want a machine politician for the president who is worse than President Veditz? He ought to resign from the Spear platform, plan and ticket, like a holy and pure Rev. gentleman.

Respectfully,
FOR THE PUBLIC GOOD.

The Gallaudet Memorial.

It is proposed to create a memorial to the late Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, D.D., by the erection of a Parish Building for St. Ann's Church for Deaf-Mutes. The present Church is situated on 148th Street, just west of Amsterdam Avenue, and is built some twenty-five feet back from the line of the street to permit the erection of such a building as above indicated, which will form a facade to the church edifice and be a center of religious and social life amongst the silent peoples. Dr. Gallaudet hoped during his lifetime to see the erection of this building, which would have completed the church with which his name has always been associated. This was not permitted, and it is suggested as a most fitting memorial to him that this work be now undertaken. St. Ann's Church is used wholly for the deaf-mutes.

The new building will occupy a plot of ground about forty-five feet along the street front and twenty-five feet in depth. It will be three stories in height, with a basement, and will be used for the social, religious and industrial needs of the deaf-mutes of New York. The amount required for "The Gallaudet Memorial Parish Building" will be about $30,000, and the building itself, in its position and purpose, will form a conspicuous monument to him whose life was devoted to the silent peoples. They themselves heartily endorse the memorial.
